

Kelly B. Johnstone

Kelly joined The Coca-Cola Company in 2000 following seventeen years of law enforcement and security experience in the government sector. She was elected vice president in May 2015 and currently has leadership responsibility for the strategic security and global asset protection.

Kelly has served in numerous roles within Strategic Security during her 16 years with The Coca-Cola Company including the Director, Global Operations where the primary responsibilities were the resolution of high order incidents, delivering asset protection strategies, and ensuring the effectiveness of the Company's incident notification process across 203 countries. Kelly also led the 24/7 emergency communications center and the Facilities Protection Group which has direct responsibility for 11 US based facilities, including the Coca-Cola world headquarters and The World of Coca-Cola in Atlanta, GA. From 2010 to 2012 Kelly was the Executive Assistant to the Executive Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer, Alex Cummings where she served as Alex's chief liaison for the executive office.

Prior to joining The Coca-Cola Company, Kelly was a special agent with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, Office of Criminal Investigations, where she was one of the first twenty agents hired into the newly established agency. Kelly was also a special agent for the former U.S. Customs Service, Office of Enforcement (now known as Immigration and Customs Enforcement) and the Naval Criminal Investigative Service. Her responsibilities included managing and conducting criminal investigations, dignitary protection, anti-terrorism and foreign counterintelligence initiatives and operations. She is a graduate of the University of Florida and the Harvard Business School, General Management Program.