

Ava A. Cooper-Davis

Global Chief Security Officer
Deloitte

Ava Cooper-Davis was recently appointed Global Chief Security Officer for Deloitte, responsible for physical security, incident/crisis management, business continuity and disaster/pandemic planning, travel security, internal investigations, executive protection and other key security programs for all Deloitte professionals worldwide. In this position, she coordinates closely with federal, state, local, and international law enforcement agencies regarding security concerns.

Prior to joining Deloitte, Ava was the Special Agent in Charge (SAC) for the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) Washington, DC Field Office which included the District of Columbia and the states of Virginia, Maryland, and West Virginia. Her 30-year career included Senior Executive leadership such as Chief of Operations Management, Deputy Chief of Intelligence, and Assistant Special Agent in Charge at Special Operations Division. She retired from the DEA in 2012 as a member of the Senior Executive Service.

Ava was born in Honduras, Central America, and is a fluent Spanish speaker. She is a graduate of John Jay College of Criminal Justice in New York City where she earned a BS in Criminal Justice and a Master's in Public Administration. She is married, has four daughters and resides in northern Virginia.